

The Probability of Observing a Set Amount of 'Really Big Wars' Over a 100-Year Period

After 75 years, it's still more probable that we haven't observed a 'really big war' than having observed just one.

